Pegasus

There are a lot of mythical animals. One of them is Pegasus. Pegasus was a flying horse. Pegasus was the son of Poseidon, the Lord of the Sea. His mother was Medusa, the horrible monster with snakes for hair.

Pegasus did not mind being a flying horse. In fact, he rather liked it. His only problem was that he was very lonely. He had no friends and no family. He couldn't live with his father because Pegasus could not breathe under the sea. He did not want to live with his mother. His mother was a monster. She had snakes for hair and he was not fond of snakes. Also his mother hated everyone, including her son, Pegasus.

The other horses stayed away from him. They knew he was different. He belonged nowhere. Pegasus kept himself busy by saving others. There are many stories of Pegasus carrying wounded soldiers safely from battle. But it was not the same as having a family or a friend to do things with.

One day, Zeus noticed that Pegasus was very depressed. Zeus decided to adopt Pegasus as his horse. He took him to live with him on Mount Olympus. Pegasus became the famous horse that Zeus rode through the stars. They soon became best friends. Finally, Pegasus had a home! And Zeus had a friend he could count on.

Artists used the image of Pegasus for centuries. He inspired countless paintings and sculptures. He is sometimes white, sometimes white with gold wings and sometimes gold all over in famous paintings.
